

Plaridel

A Philippine Journal of Communication, Media, and Society

2020 • Volume 17 • Number 2

Vernacular and Regional Cinemas in the Philippines

Issue Editor: Paul Douglas Grant

i A Note from the Editor

Paul Douglas Grant

Main Articles

- 1 The Dynamics of Globalization in the Regional Film The Chanters
Mary Anne Mallari
- 23 Screening Place: Regional and Vernacular Cinemas in Cebu
Paul Grant
- 43 Alternative Modes of Distribution and Exhibition: Cebuano Cinema from the Perspective of Filmmakers
Jeneth B. Borlasa & Marie Rose B. Arong
- 61 Ang “Aswang” at “Tama(w)o” bilang Sinematikong Kaalamang-Bayan at Diyalektika ng Bansa at Rehiyon
Jay Jomar Quintos
- 99 Local Film Production in the Philippine Cordillera: Processes, Motivations, and Constraints
Paolo Jason Telles

Regular Articles

123 The Cebuano Bugalbugal

Jocelyn Pinzon

153 Cultural Ramifications and the Diaspora of Being and Becoming:
Exiles, Displacements, and Relocations through the Trauma of Birth in ABS-CBN Star Cinema's Anak, Barcelona, Dubai, and Milan

Imelda de Castro

COVER DESIGN - Ivy Marie Apa is a practicing artist and academic. She worked as an illustrator for children's literature of international publications before entering the academe. She completed her bachelor's degree in Fine Arts and her master's degree in Anthropology at the University of San Carlos, Cebu, Philippines. She teaches art history and art research in the Fine Arts programs of the University of the Philippines Cebu and the University of San Carlos. She is the former Chairperson of Regional Art Forum (RAF), a non-profit organization or network of visual artists, writers, community workers, scholars, and counter experts that promote art reception and contemporary art practices in the regions.