

Plaridel

A Philippine Journal of Communication, Media, and Society
February 2013 • Volume 10 • Number 1

Media and History

Issue Editor: Nicanor G. Tiongson, Ph.D.

- i Pauca Facit Magna: A Note from the Editor
Nicanor G. Tiongson, Ph.D.

Articles

- 1 Journalismong Tagalog sa Renacimiento Filipino (1910-1913): Pagbibinhi ng Makabayang Sanaysay sa Panitikan ng Filipinas
Eulalio R. Guieb III
- 30 Orientalism in the Narrative, Music and Myth of the Amok in the 1937 film Zamboanga
Jose S. Buenconsejo
- 50 The Filipino Broadcasters on Overseas Propaganda Radio in World War II
Elizabeth L. Enriquez
- 64 A Brief History of the Baguio Sine
Ma. Rina A. Locsin

Reviews

- 82 Early Cinema History and the Emergence of “Filipino” Film
Patrick F. Campos

89 Balik-Tanaw sa Panahon ng Batas Militar

Jema M. Pamintuan

Interview

99 Remembering Radyo Bandido:

Interview with Gabe Mercado

Fernando A. Austria, Jr.

Documents

110 Gawad Plaridel (2012): Harnessing Television as a Public Service Medium

Florence Danon-Gayda a.k.a. Rosa Rosal

Translation

121 Tagalog Journalism in the Renacimiento Filipino (1910-1913): Sowing the Seeds of Nationalist Essay in

Philippine Literature

Eulalio R. Guieb III

Translated by Philip Y. Kimpo, Jr.

The cover: A colorized pictorial photo of the 1937 movie Zamboanga, showing young mestizo actor Fernando Poe (Sr.) and Rosa del Rosario as Tausog “natives” with Pagsanjan Falls in Laguna in the background. Photo courtesy of Nick Deocampo.