

UP Film Institute Filmography of Filipino Films 2006

Introduced by Lucenio Martin L. Lauzon
Compiled by Lucenio Martin L. Lauzon,
Lynette S. Quintillan and Berinice I. Zamora

There were 49 movies officially produced in the Philippines for 2006. The figure can be supplemented by non-mainstream titles like the digital pictures that had a full run in regular theaters within the year as well as those specifically made for the Cinemalaya, Cinema One and Cinemania Digital Lokal competitions.

Regal Entertainment was the top production outfit for the year with a total of 12 releases including co-ventures with at least two other major film companies.

Romance was the top genre with nine titles jointly supplied by Regal and the rest of the big studios, namely Star Cinema, GMA Films, and Viva Entertainment.

Although romance was the top genre and Regal the top film company, it was ironically Chito Roño's Sukob – a horror flick from Star Cinema – that proved to be the biggest moneymaker.

The year saw at least one Cinemalaya entry, namely, Adolf Alix's Donsol cross over to the mainstream with a full theatrical run of its version blown up to the industry's 35mm print standard. The year was also marked with the holding of the annual Metro Manila Film Festival with its complete selection given one common playdate, a departure from the experience of past years wherein some had to wait for the new year to open in theaters nationwide.

International recognition for Philippine cinema may also be said to characterize the film year. Most pronounced was the case of Jeffrey Jeturian's Kubrador. Its critics prize in Moscow was just the first in a string of honors it received from prestigious festivals worldwide.

In this filmography, each entry contains: 1) the title of the film; 2) genre, running time (in hours and minutes), MTRCB classification; 3) short synopsis; and 4) production data. Abbreviations for the latter are: P = Production Company, D = Director, ST = Story, OST = Original Story, SP = Screenplay, A = Actors, PD = Production Design, C = Cinematography, E = Editor, M = Music, S = Sound, TS = Theme Song, and OTS = Original Theme Song.
